The Country's Exports.

The Chief of the Bureau on Statistics reports that the exports of domestic cotton from the United States during August 1885, were 62,235 bales, valued at $3,066,424. Of this amount, New York shipped 44,483 bales, Boston 5,340 Philadelphia, 2,116 and New Orleans, 8,971. The exports for August 1884, amounted to 71,519 bales, valued at $3,799,907. The exports for the 12 months ending Aug. 31, 1885, were 3,963,510 bales, valued at $198,494,139; for the same time in 1884, 3,885,280 bales, valued at $197,749,614.

The total values of the exports of mineral oils during August, 1885, were $4,576,026; August, 1884, $4,084,490; eight months ended Aug. 31st, 1885, $17,011,158; same time, 1884, $30,414,532.

The exports of domestic breadstuffs were in August, 1885, $7,709,956. August, 1884, $16,519,044; two months Aug. 31, 1885, $16,424,271; same time, 1884, $23,890,793; eight months ending August 31, 1885, $93,268,938; same time 1884, $97,065,175.

The State Fair.

The Elko Free Press says: From present indications the State Fair to be held at Reno, during the week commencing October 12th, and ending October 17th, 1885, will be the most successful affair of the kind ever held in Nevada. The attractions presented there this year will undoubtedly surpass those of any year heretofore, both in variety and quality. A deeper interest than ever before manifested is showing itself in all portions of the State, and Nevada people have seemingly awakened to the fact that our State and its varied products can be better known and appreciated if a good showing be made at the State Fair. It is the duty of every citizen and well-wisher of Nevada to give all the aid in their power towards the success of the Fair. If you can not attend in person contribute some article for exhibition. Everything sent will help in the good work. It will cost you nothing to send articles, and we guarantee, from personal knowledge, that everything will be carefully taken care of by those in charge; and if you wish to spend an enjoyable week, take a run down to Reno. You will be treated to the best the town affords. The accommodations are of the best and the people A No. 1.

Intimations have been given by Republican Senators in Washington that Collector Heddin, of New York, is inviting new danger if he shall continue in his present obstructive course, with respect to the civil-service reform policy. Some have suggested that he may find it very difficult to secure confirmation.

Matt Allen, acting for R. P. Ashe, of California, will match the three-year-old colt Alta against any three-year-old in America for $5,000 a side, to run a mile and three-quarters or two miles at Baltimore, on a good day and track.

It is said in the past six years the amount of gold has increased $112,000,000 or 83 per cent, and the amount of silver $158,000,000, or nearly 380 per cent.

A lodge of the Knights of Pythias is to be instituted at Genoa on the 3d of next month. Grand Chancellor Conbois and other Knights will be there to attend to it.

The Daily Journal is only one bit a week delivered by carrier, or $5 per year by mail.

WEST POINT APPOINTMENTS.—Every Congressional District is entitled to one cadet at West Point Academy, and ten are appointed from the country at large. As each cadet graduates, dies or resigns, room is made for another in his place. It is the duty of the Representative in Congress of a given district to select a commission of three citizens, who shall meet at a place appointed and examine and report upon the proficiency of candidates offering; those best versed in arithmetic, reading and writing, including orthography, the elements of the English grammar, of descriptive geography, particularly of their own country, and in the history of the United States, are awarded preference. The appointments at large are conferred by the President; those from the Districts and Territories by the Secretary of War on the nomination of the Representative thereof.

Says Grover to "Rosey"—"You're Fresh, My Boy."

Some time ago General Rosecrans, Register of the Treasury, called for the resignation of several of the Chiefs of Divisions in his office because they differed with him regarding the efficiency of some so-called reform he was introducing into the office. They were all clerks of long experience and efficiency, and believing it was their duty, protested against some innovations which General Rosecrans, who knows nothing whatever of bookkeeping, saw fit to introduce. But it appears that the President overruled the General and has given him to understand that in a bureau like that of the Register it is not safe to make radical changes from the old system. During the past week one of the Pennsylvania Congressmen who had a candidate for one of the positions when a vacancy should occur, called upon Secretary Manning and asked to have his candidate given a position. The Secretary informed him that the President had considered that the resignation of the five chiefs had not been requested upon sufficient grounds, and for the present they must not be disturbed.

Guards at the Tomb of Grant and Garfield.

The announcement has been made that the Secretary of War has decided to keep a guard at General Grant's tomb in Riverside Park only until January 1, 1886. At the same time, the guard at Garfield's tomb at Cleveland, Ohio, which has been there ever since Garfield's death, will be removed. The reason it has been kept so long is that President Arthur did not care to give orders to remove it. He was in a delicate position and did not wish to issue any order, hence the tramp of the watch continued month after month until now, when the Secretary of War includes the order of removal in that pertaining to General Grant's tomb.

A Democratic Congressman's Bath.

One day big, handsome Ben La Fevre was laying his rotund and jovial personality in a marble bath-tub in the White House bath-rooms at the Capitol. While he was sporting himself in tepid water, made foaming with scented soaps, and was about ready to be rubbed dry by the attendant, a messenger came down and called him from the outside that there were some gentlemen above anxious to see him on important business for a moment, as they were obliged to depart hurriedly to catch a train.

"Who are they?" called the General, as he blew the water out of his big moustache with a snort like a porpoise. "They are some gentlemen from Ohio," was the response.

"Are they people from my district?" asked Ben.

"Yes sir," answered the messenger.

"Then for heaven's sake don't send them down here. Shut the doors there and keep them out. Good Lord! if any of them find that I bathe in a marble tub and am rubbed down by a nigger instead of going down to the creek and drying myself with my shirt, it will lose me a thousand votes."

The unperfumed and unwashed constituents didn't get in.—Carr. Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

WANTED His "BAWTH."—The scene is laid at Reno, upon the arrival of the eastward-bound overland train:

British Tourist—Aw, baggage, mawter, look 'ere, I want me bawth, you know.

Baggage-man—Want your bath? I ain't got no bath.

B. T.—Oh, yes, you know. It's hover there in one o' me boxes, you know. 'Ere's the brasses. [Tendering the baggage checks.]

B. T.—Where are you going?

B. T.—Hi'm going to New York, you know.

B.—Well, you can't get at that baggage now.

B. T.—Aw, but I must, you know. I must 'ave me bawth. Hi'm the son of a dake, you know.

B.—Don't make no difference. If you were the son of a gun you couldn't get at that baggage now.

[Exit British tourist in horror.]—Chicago Tribune.

VIRGINIA REPUBLICANS.—In reply to a statement that "the bottom had dropped out of the Republican party in Virginia" the Richmond Wing prints the following figures:

It is thus that Bourbonism is getting rid of Republicans in Virginia:
In 1879, 82,000 Republicans.
In 1881, 113,000 Republicans.
In 1883, 127,000 Republicans.
In 1884, 142,000 Republicans.
In 1885, —How many.

Now is the time to advertise for the Fall trade.

WOOL WILL BE KING.

One of the Leading Industries of the West Improving.

Ogden News.

Our reporter, meeting Colonel John A. Hudson, a gentleman deeply versed in the fleecy meshes of the wool mystery, had the pleasure of eliciting from that expert some information concerning the business in which he is engaged and well posted. The following conversation explains itself:

"Colonel, how about the price of wool, this season? Does your jovial countenance bear evidence of a rise in the commodity?"

"Well, I don't know about my countenance, but I know about the improvement in the wool trade, as prices have materially changed for the better, in the last fifty days."

"What are the running prices, anyhow?"

"Well, in the months of July and August, 13 to 15 cents or thereabouts was a good figure; but those holding for later sales got better prices, having been paid, as the market improved."

"How do you estimate the present rate will remunerate the wool men?"

"With such a price, sheep owners can take breath for a new lease of life, and comfort their hearts with an expectation of placing their business on a fairly paying basis."

"Is there any organization in this country which controls the wool business, something akin to the Standard Oil Company or the telegraph and railroad corporations?"

"Well, there is nothing at all like, or corresponding to it; but I can give you this for a pointer that the wool clip of 1885 is now in the hands of wealthy men—some of whom are the manufacturers—and all of whom appear, to my observation, determined to hold the wool at a steady price."

"What are your ideas concerning the future of the wool business?"

"I think that wool will yet be king, in a more extended dominion and with larger sway than cotton ever was."

"How do you put this?"

"Simply because good wool such as Utah Territory and other sources of supply can justly boast of, will be in greater demand in the near future than it has been in the past."

"What leads you to think thus?"

"First, the manufacturers of America have prepared themselves to compete with the manufacturers of Europe, and I can see no reason why they could not, and should not compete in the markets of the world, wherever woolen goods are sold."

"How about the relative merits of American and European manufactures?"

"During the past decade, and prior to two years ago, there was no good machinery in the Eastern manufactures for making fine fabrics of wool. England and Germany were furnishing the cloths for America. This was because our factories were not prepared to make first-class goods. Much of the machinery prior to this year had been running these twenty years and had not been improved to keep up with the age. Now a change has come."

"Please inform the readers of the News as to the manner in which this change has come."

"You see, throughout all New England and the East the manufacturers have cast aside their rattle-trap looms, and in their stead have placed the newest and most modern devices, and will, from this forward, send forth cloths, that for texture and finish will not be excelled in the world. I shall expect in another Spring to see our merchant tailors' shelves filled with these new goods of new patterns made by American looms and spun from the wool of American sheep. This will change the tide of prosperity in favor of the flock-master; and wool, instead of cotton may yet be king."

"This, of course, gives Utah and Idaho sheep raisers a well-founded hope for more remunerative returns from their hands, and will induce them to enlarge their operations."

"I should naturally think it would. But allow me to add one word of caution to this talk, if you intend publishing it. To prosper none but the finest of sheep should be raised. Coarse wool, such as there is raised just near here will be down at the low grade of the ill bred brutes of South Africa and Australia. But the better kinds, as we find them within a region covered by a radius of 500 miles from Ogden, will rise to the top, being equal, if not superior, to the California grade."

"What is the standard weight of fleeces most desirable for the trade?"

"About six pounds; a sheep that clips less than that is not much of a profit to its raiser."

"How is Utah adapted to the sheep trade?"

"Splendidly, indeed it cannot be excelled by any of its neighbors. All it needs is the careful selection of the best and healthiest breeds and unceasing watchcare by the flock-master."

JUSTICE WAITE'S APPOINTMENT.

Ben Perley Poore's Version as to How it Was Accomplished.

The appointment of Mr. Waite, a Toledo lawyer, who was only known at Washington as one of the counsel in the Geneva Conference, to be Chief Justice, naturally created some surprise at Washington, writes Ben. Perley Poore to the Boston Budget; it became known, however, that it was the result of the inner workings of Ohio politics. When the Whig party in that State was abandoned, its old leaders naturally drifted into the Republican party. Ewing and Corwin were such devoted Whigs that they never fairly and fully became installed in the new organization, but Delano, Galloway, Ben Stanton, Schenck, Goddard, Waite, Horton, and many others less prominent, very heartily entered the new organizations, though they did not seek prominence, and, as Chase was Governor of the State, he very naturally became the prominent Republican figure in Ohio.

The ambition of Governor Chase to become President led him into the error of calling about him as his confidential advisers chiefly such men as had formerly acted with the Democratic party, while at the same time he spared no pains to cripple every prominent Republican who had been a leading Whig in the State. A bitter warfare was the result, and Chase found himself powerless to crush out all those men. In their local districts they were popular, and Delano made a strong contest for the United States Senatorship against Chase before the Legislature, in the Winter of 1859-60. In the Summer of 1860 several of those old Whigs turned up in the Chicago Convention, greatly against the wishes of Mr. Chase, and it will be remembered that Mr. Delano seconded the nomination of Mr. Lincoln in a brief speech, which at once blasted the prospects of Mr. Chase and gave great encouragement to Mr. Lincoln's friends. Practically, that closed out Mr. Chase in Ohio, and he was never again before the people of this State as a candidate for any position. Schenck became Minister to England and Delano became Secretary of the Interior. The latter, although not intimately acquainted with Mr. Waite, knew him to be a man of eminent legal abilities, conscientious and worthy of any trust and position within the gift of the Government. When the President was looking about for suitable men to serve as counselors for the Government at Geneva, Secretary Delano at once thought of the man who had sympathized with him against the Chase dynasty, and named Mr. Waite to the President, who having great confidence in the judgment of Mr. Delano appointed Mr. Waite. All know the highly creditable manner in which Mr. Waite acquitted himself at Geneva. When the President had twice failed to appoint an acceptable person to the position of Chief Justice, he consulted with his Cabinet officers upon the subject, and Secretary Delano again recommended his friend Waite, and the President adopted the suggestion.

THE DISCOUNT ON BULLION.
(Win. Silver State.)
For the year ending September 1st the Paradise Valley Mining Company, in consequence of the destruction of their mill by fire, worked a little less than eight months. In that time their mines produced $185,909 52, on which, in consequence of the discount on bullion they realized but $153,329 60, the loss being $32,580 92. The average expenditure of the company amounted to about $12,000 per month, nearly one-half of which was paid out for steel and iron drills, picks, machinery etc. Were it not for the high tariff, the first cost of their steel and iron would be nearly one-half less than it now is. This difference the silver miners pay to the iron producers of the Atlantic States, yet the iron men do not seem to appreciate it, as they join with the bankers in their warfare against silver. The idea of being reciprocal, and aiding in protecting silver mining, which is an American industry as much as iron mining, never enters their minds. Their policy seems to be to protect Eastern industries, exact the highest price for every article from the non-manufacturing silver States and Territories, and aid the London and New York brokers in depreciating the value of the principal product of those States and Territories.

Eight Year Presidential Terms.

We have now too many elections. The enormous business of our vast country suffers a partial paralysis every fourth year. The danger that a change in administration may result in a change in the tariff, currency, coinage, internal revenue, or foreign affairs, affects every merchant in the land, curtails business, produces contraction and failures, and is attended by no corresponding benefit. That eight years is preferred for the Presidential term by the people is shown by the fact, that out of our fifteen Presidents, seven have been re-elected, while in other instances the attempt has often been made either to nominate or re-elect the retiring President.—C. T. Hopkins, in October Overland.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

BREVITIES.

Judge Marshal and wife went below last night.

Sol Levy says he will have the finest stock of dry goods outside of San Francisco in a few days. He is now worked nearly to death buying goods. It looks as though he will keep his word.

A full line of bottled wines and liquors imported and domestic, ginger ale, mineral water, Apollinaris imported and all other best brands known to the trade can be found at George Becker's Granite saloon, and a fine lunch thrown in.

It is reported that the State Line Gold Mining Company, will resume operations in a short time. The majority of the stock, which was formerly held in New York, is now in the hands of Nevada men, who propose working the mine for all it is worth.

An Overdose of Morphine.

About noon yesterday, J. F. Myers, the well-known Reno druggist, who rooms over the Chicago saloon on Commercial Row, was discovered to have taken a large dose of morphine. Drs. Dawson, Hogan and Bergstein were at once summoned and the stomach pump was put to work, but his system was found to have absorbed the drug, and although the most powerful stimulants were applied, he did not recover consciousness, and at 6:35 he passed away. Deceased had a large circle of friends in Reno, and was a prominent member of the Knights of Pythias, in the Endowment Rank of which he had an insurance policy of $3,000. His only living relative is his sister, Mrs. Dr. Hogan, to whom he was deeply attached, and whose affection for him was unbounded. He was born at New Orleans, and was raised at Louisville, and was about 35 years of age. He was a bright young man, generous to a fault, public spirited, and devoted to his friends. He will be greatly missed from Reno. May the Giver of all good forgive him all his sins and receive him tenderly in the Celestial Lodge above.

State Land Office.

The Carson Free Lance says: From the 21st to the 25th instant, inclusive, applications aggregating 1,270 87-100 acres have been filed. Of this area 760 acres are at the minimum price of $1 25, and 510 78-100 at the double minimum price of $2 50. Besides these there are other applications for lands at $1 25 per acre, but they are held in abeyance under the late order of the State University Regents, increasing the price. Should the Regents rescind the order it is probable that these applications will be received and become valid.

We learn from the Surveyor General that the greatest proportion of the lands being sold at $1 25 per acre prior to the order of the Regents were of the general area known as "summer range" for cattle, but that in view of the increase of the price such lands are no longer saleable, while the cattle roam over them just as before. This is a serious matter and should be carefully considered by the Regents. At present the land sales are rapidly falling off.

A Prize for Artists.

The Carson Tribune says: The managers of the State Fair will do well to give a prize for the best display of home painting. The State contains ladies of unquestionable ability in that line and surely some inducement should be offered to induce a competition by a display of their work. It is to be hoped the hint may be taken and immediately acted upon.

The Paradise Valley Mine.

The annual report of J. V. McCurdy, superintendent of the Wild Goose and Paradise mines at Paradise Valley, Humboldt county, Nev., shows that the total number of tons of ore reduced during the past year was 4,562 and 870 pounds, and that the total gross yield of bullion was $185,909 52. They have on hand tailings valued at $100,000.

The State Teachers' Institute.

The Carson Free Lance remarks: An effort is being made to hold in each of two different towns of the State a two or three days' session of the State Teachers' Institute. If the counties of Humboldt and Lander offer to the Institute the same inducements that last year were offered by the counties of Elko and Storey, a session will be held in each of the towns, Winnemucca and Austin. Deputy City Superintendent of Schools Joseph O'Connor, of San Francisco, will be one of the Institute instructors and the principal speaker. Professor O'Connor is the leading spirit in the public schools of San Francisco, and is of the school of practical educators and most modern in his educational methods. With him in the lead this year the Institute can not fail of good results. He has also consented to give an educational lecture in Virginia City, and possibly one in Carson.

Nevada Grand Lodge I. O. G. T.

The Nevada Grand Lodge, I. O. G. T. convened at Wadsworth on Thursday, September 25th, and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: G. W. C. T., L. R. Ames, Smith's Valley; G. W. V. T., Mrs. M. H. McNevin, Wadsworth; G. W. Sec., Prof. J. E. Bray, Winnemucca; G. W. T., Mrs. M. B. Bonham, Dayton; G. W. C., Rev. J. M. Helsey, Wadsworth; G. W. Counsellor, C. Chenoweth, Winnemucca; G. W. M. R. T. O-barber, Winnemucca; Supt. Juvenile Temples, Mrs. J. M. Helsey, Wadsworth; G. I. G., H. Sbirley, Dayton; G. O. G., A. J. Littel, Mason Valley.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Dayton on the last Thursday and Friday of August.

That Injunction Suit.

The Carson Free Lance says: We are informed by a party in interest that the suit recently brought against the Willow Creek Mining Company by O. N. Harris to restrain an assessment, has nothing to do with the matter of the operations of Mr. C. O. Stevenson at the Washoe City mine. The suit is against a fraudulent assessment in which no stockholder has paid a dollar to the treasury, while his stock, 3,000 shares out of 20,000, is advertised for sale as delinquent. What further suits there may be it is hard to say. Thus far the company has received no account of ores taken from the mine and reduced.

Reno Complimented.

In speaking of the necessity of more money to complete the State Printing Office, the Carson Appeal pays Reno the following compliment: "Give Reno half a chance and she will pay the deficit, tear down the walls now erected, move the entire building down there, and have it already for use before the snow flies."

C. C. Stevenson and John Kelly came in on the V. & T. last night.

The New State Printing Office.

The appropriation made by the last Legislature for the erection of a building for a State Printing Office in Carson has been nearly exhausted. The walls are not yet up to their full height, and there is not enough funds on hand to put a roof over the structure. The Appeal urges the appointment of a committee of citizens to wait on the Attorney General, State Controller and State Treasurer to see if those officers are willing to go ahead with the work after the exhaustion of the appropriation. If they are not, it advocates the raising of a sufficient sum to complete the structure by private subscription, the amount so subscribed to be repaid by the State through an appropriation to be made by the next Legislature.

Advice to Mothers.

If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. ## For the State Fair.

The Inyo Independent says: Preparations should begin at once by parties who intend sending articles to the Nevada State Fair, at Reno. All goods carried each way free, and everything sent for exhibition will be safely returned, or sold, if desired. We ought to make a good display of dried fruits, and of late apples and pears. If sufficient interest is taken this matter will be of benefit to the country.

Perfidious Reno.

The wide-awake Carson Tribune gently sounds the following warning note: It is faintly whispered that the good, honest people of Reno are banding together to intercept the expected Government Agent and offer to donate a plat of ground at Riverside for the United States building. What those fellows are not up to is not worth consideration, but in this matter they will surely get left.

Change of Time on the V. & T. R. R.
Commencing October 1st the west bound local train will leave Virginia at 8 A. M. instead of 7:20, as at present, and will arrive at Carson at 9:30 instead of 8:50; will leave Carson at 10 A. M., arriving at Reno at 12 M. There will be no change in the east-bound local or express trains.

Attention Knights.

All members of Amity Lodge, No. 8, K. of P., are requested to assemble at their hall at 1 P. M. to-day, to make arrangements for the funeral of ex-Grand Vice Chancellor, J. F. Myers.

Geo. R. Mosher,
Chancellor Commander.

The Lyon County Times says: Senator John Dennis, of the Times-Review, claims that it is unjust to say that Fair has not influence enough to keep the Carson Mint open, for the reason that under the Republican administration there were no efforts made to close the Mint, and Jones therefore was not required to exert his influence to any great extent. We believe there have been propositions to close the Mint under Republican Presidents, and claim that it was through Jones that it was kept running. And we also believe that if Mr. Dennis was in Fair's position he would have been able to do more to keep the Mint open than did the Hon. James G.

COUNTY CLERK'S OFFICE, Washoe county, Nevada

Reno, September 14, 1895.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE County Assessor of Washoe county, Nevada, has completed the tax list or assessment roll, and has duly attached his certificate thereto, and delivered it and the Map Book and all original lists of property given to him to the Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners; that the Board of County Commissioners will meet on Monday, September 21, 1895, as a Board of Equalization, and will hear and determine all complaints made in regard to the assessed value of any property within said county, and will change and correct a valuation either by adding thereto or deducting therefrom, if they deem the same to be in the assessment roll either above or below the true value, whether said sum was fixed by the owner or Assessor, except that in case where the person complaining of the assessment has refused to give to the Assessor his list under oath as required by law. In such cases no reductions will be made by the Board of Equalization in the assessment made by the Assessor. The assessment roll will be kept open for public inspection at the County Clerk's office until after adjournment of the Board of Equalization. The Board of Equalization will continue in session from time to time until the business of equalization is disposed of, but said Board will not sit after the 1st of October 1895, except that the Board of Equalization will meet to equalize the assessment roll and hear complaints in executed cases mentioned in the Revenue Law, Section 15, 31st Comp. Laws.
